Mersini Moreleli-Cacouris
Library of TEI of Thessaloniki

Dear Mersini,

Thank you very much for the opportunity to participate at the highly successful conference on the Library Assessment Conference held in Thessaloniki, 13-15 June 2005. On behalf of all the presenters I would like to commend you and all the participants at the conference for their involvement and intellectual engagement in the area of library assessment.

The publication of the proceedings is a really meaningful contribution to the library field as it brings together the latest thinking on library assessment both from the perspective of research and practice. All the contributors are expecting the final distribution of this publication with anticipation as it truly brings together important research and documents the latest practice in the library assessment area.

I am confident that we are building stronger libraries in Greece and all over the world with the new methods we are implementing that help library institutions demonstrate their value and strong service imperative. Please accept my congratulations for the great service you are doing through both the Library Science department and through the library at TEI.

ARL would like to distribute the published proceedings from the conference held at TEI outside Greece. We plan to distribute this publication widely and make it available through the following webpages: <http://www.arl.org/stats/> and <http://www.libqual.org>

Thank you very much for the highly successful collaboration. I look forward to more opportunities for future collaboration and building upon the strong foundation of this conference.

Sincerely,

Martha Kyrillidou
